ISSUE

The Department of Health Services Administration within the School of Public Health proposes to rename its current doctoral program in “Health Services” to “Health Services Research.” Health Services Research is the official name of the academic discipline and used by peer institution Ph.D. programs, including Boston University, Johns Hopkins, George Mason, and Stanford. Moreover, the name Health Services can be misleading, as it could describe the broader field of health care service delivery, rather than the specific research field of Health Services Research.

This proposal was approved by the Graduate School Programs, Curricula, and Courses Committee on November 30, 2018, and was approved by the Senate Programs, Curricula, and Courses Committee on December 7, 2018.

RECOMMENDATION(S)

The Senate Committee on Programs, Curricula, and Courses recommends that the Senate approve this program name change.

COMMITTEE WORK

The committee considered this proposal at its meeting on December 7, 2018. Dylan Roby, Associate Chair and Director of Graduate Studies for the Department of Health Services Administration, presented the proposal and answered questions from the committee. The proposal was unanimously approved by the committee.

ALTERNATIVES

The Senate could decline to approve this program title change.

RISKS

If the Senate declines to approve this name change, the program will retain its inaccurate and potentially confusing title.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

There are no significant financial implications with this proposal.

Summary of Proposed Action (use additional sheet if necessary):

The Department of Health Services Administration would like to update the name of the PhD program in Health Services to "Health Services Research." Health Services Research is the official name of the academic discipline and Health Services is no longer used to describe the field. This revision to the name will better characterize our field of study and match peer institutions PhD programs in Health Services Research, including Boston University, Johns Hopkins, George Mason University, and Stanford. The name Health Services can be misleading, as it could describe the broader field of health care service delivery, rather than the specific research field of Health Services Research. AcademyHealth, the membership organization, has been focused on promulgating a competency model for Health Services Research to set a standard for the profession: <https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/abs/10.1111/1475-6773.12851>. We would like our name to reflect the discipline accurately and avoid confusion for students, faculty, and other stakeholders.
